Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the selection process particularly being based “solely on the most recently viewed television programming” wherein the “profile includes at least information associated with both more recently viewed television programming and less recently viewed television programming” must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled “Replacement Sheet” in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 34, 44, 49, and 54 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

While noted by the applicant that the limitations of objected to claim 45 was incorporated into claim 44, the claim as presented is broader in scope than that originally objected to. In particular, original claim 45 stated that the most recently viewed television program [was] solely used to select the advertisement" while newly amended claim 44 makes a selection based on the "most recently viewed television programming". The most recently viewed television programming may refer to either a single program or a collection of programming deemed as the most recently viewed.

Double Patenting

3. A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Art Unit: 2614

4. Applicant is advised that should claim 34 be found allowable, claim 48 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

6. Claims 4, 5, 7, 8, 14, 15, 19, 33-42, 44, and 46-58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement.

Claims 34, 44, 49, and 54 contain subject matter that was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In particular, the specification discloses an embodiment wherein the “profile includes at least information associated with both more recently viewed television programming and less recently viewed television programming” wherein more weight is given to the most recently viewed programming (IA: Page 17, Lines 3-7), however, the specification does not disclose or suggest “selecting . . . based solely on the most recently viewed television programming” using the aforementioned composite profile. It simply states that more weight may be given to one versus the other. In moving to weighting to exclusively being based on the most recently viewed programming, the specification states that in connection with an embodiment solely using the most recent programming that the profile includes “information relating to only the most recently viewed television programming” (IA: Page 17, Lines 8-9). As such, there does not appear to be support in the specification as originally filled wherein the selection process based solely on the most recently viewed television programming utilizes a profile comprising both more and less recently viewed programming.

In light of the specification, it is the examiner’s opinion that an amendment to the claims wherein selecting an advertisement based on the most recently viewed programming being given more weight than the less recently viewed television programming would be supported in light of the specification. However, such an amendment would require further search and/or consideration.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure as follows. Applicant is reminded that in amending in response to a rejection of claims, the patentable novelty must be clearly shown in view of the state of the art disclosed by the references cited and the objections made.

- The Zigmond et al. (US Pat No. 6,698,020) reference discloses a system and method for selecting and inserting advertisements into a video programming feed at the household level.
- The Knee et al. (US Pub No. 2002/0095676) discloses a method for selecting advertisements wherein a profile is based on information associated with both more and less recently viewed television programming wherein more recently viewed programming is weighted more heavily due to a decay function.

- The Lazarus et al. (US Pat No. 6,134,532) reference discloses a system and method for selecting and presenting personally targeted advertisements.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
